

MAKE SEARCHING INVESTIGATION IN CAPITOL FIRE

Instituted by David Lynn, Architect of The Structure

ARTIST IS RECOVERING

Damage Various Estimated At From $1,000 To $3,000

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—(INS).—A searching investigation into the cause of the mystery fire which gutted a portion of the House document room and the artist's model room of the national capitol early last night, was instituted today by David Lynn, architect of the capitol.

Congress may also be brought into the inquiry as a result of the rumors growing out of the blaze, it was indicated. Lynn expressed the opinion that congressional committees concerned with the management of the capitol may inquire into the fire.

The damage was variously estimated at from $1,000 to $3,000, but the full extent was not expected to be determined until during the day when danger of seepage of water through the five-foot walls of the capitol had passed.

Charles Moberly, the capitol artist, who was carried out of the smoke-filled model room unconscious was reported to be recovering, and Lynn expected a conference with him today to furnish some information which may lead to a definite determination of the cause of the blaze.

The artist was treated by Dr. George W. Calvert, congressional physician, for two hours after he was rescued by firemen. During this period he talked incoherently at times.

Because the House document and artist's model room were separated only by a thin partition it was difficult to determine just where the fire started. Lynn, after an examination said that unquestionably it started in the model room.

Firemen told him after the fire that the electric wiring was in order and the fire could not have originated from that source. Moberly, it was said by Lynn, did not smoke cigarettes but at times smoked cigars.

The capitol fire, coming on the Christmas eve blaze which damaged the White House offices, gave rise to many rumors. Tales that enemies of the government had resorted to fire, spread but such rumors were promptly discounted by officials.

Great crowds thronged the capitol plaza soon after the blaze was discovered just before 7 p. m. Six alarms were sounded, and fire apparatus dashed from all parts of the city. Historic Pennsylvania avenue became a parade-ground for swiftly moving fire-trucks.

Capitol police, who had discovered the fire, led firemen to the burning rooms on the fourth floor, or attic, and several streams of water were turned upon the edifice. Smoke filled the capitol and blackened one side of the great dome. The smoke is believed to have come chiefly from artists' chemicals, several paintings of Court of Claims Justices and the composition partition. Few documents were burned.

Those present were: Bertha and Cora LaRue, Wilmina LaRue, Doris Plum, Katharine Chanch, Mildred Cahill, Elsie Heaton, Gilbert and Fritz Herman, Edward Mariner, Verdun Watt, Harry Smith, Joseph Britton, Charles Brodie, George Heaton, of Bristol; Margaret Schorsch, of Langhorne, and Edmond Berry, Jr., of Wyncote. PHILA.-PITTSBURGH OFFENDERS ARE MANY

Two Cities Lead in Persons Violating Motor Vehicle Code

STATE NEWS NOTES

HARRISBURG, Jan. 4.—(INS).—Philadelphia and Pittsburgh motorists were the chief offenders against the motor vehicle code during the week ending December 27, according to the Bureau of Motor Vehicles which today announced punitive action against code violators.

The revocation of 42 driving cards, the suspension of 37 and the restoration of driving privileges to 20 motorists were announced by the Bureau. Of the revocations, 21 were for intoxication and, in this category, Philadelphians predominated, six Quaker City motorists having their licenses revoked. They were: John Richards, John Meyers, Jr., James J. McGarvey, Mario Brazil, Myron W. Sloan and H. H. Branyon.

Eight Philadelphians and five Smoky City drivers lost their cards on the larceny count. The Philadelphians were: William Smithers, Charles McCarthy, William Carter, Murrell Moore, Walter Rodgers, Morton Robinson, Thomas O'Donnell and Vincent A. Guise. The Pittsburgh drivers to suffer the revocation penalty were: Calvin Smith, John Chasarik, Glen Morris, John Downey and John Palmer. CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—(INS).—Pennsylvania's collective sweet tooth crunched one-ninth of all the candy sold in the United States every year, according to Ferdinand A. Bunte, Chicago candy manufacturer, in an address here recently. The yearly confectionery ration of the average Pennsylvanian is 17.2 pounds.

"Of 1,599,481,829 pounds of candy required to satisfy America's sweet tooth annually," the manufacturer said, "Pennsylvania consumes a total of 169,735,622 pounds, ranking second among all the others of the Union in the amount of candy eaten."

HARRISBURG, Jan. 4.—(INS).—Mrs. Pauline Geisel, of Camp Hill, is the proud possessor of one of two hand-made horseshoes worn by Lou Dillon, thoroughbred race horse, who won his greatest victory on the turf on the thirteenth of the month.

By an odd coincidence, Mrs. Geisel's first and second names total just thirteen letters.

The shoes were made by J. N. Mull, of this city, while working at the Gentlemen's Driving Park on Long Island, N. Y.

Harry Kendall Thaw was a member of the club and Mull presented Thaw with one of the shoes while the husband of Evelyn Nesbit was on trial years ago for the slaying of Stanford White.

UNNECESSARY NOISES

A society which would prove as useful as others are useless and which would be as popular as others are unpopular would be a society for the suppression of preventable bedlam.

Every growing community is beset with problems and the noise problem is not the least of them. It ranks in importance with traffic, zoning, building, planning, and in manufacturing towns smoke control.

An accurate measure of the importance of any municipal issue is the number of complaints heard. Only poor streets and traffic congestion are provocative of more general complaint and protest than street noise.

Common noises with which the public is at odds are the night-prowling motor trucks, rattling milk crates of the before-dawn delivery boys, street cars with flat wheels, midnight automobile horns, neighborhood quartets "stealing the stuff" of Chanticleer and the ladies of the neighborhood who shatter the early morning mists by their broadcastings across the back fence or the intervening street.

One of the penalties the city must suffer is the loss of the peace and quiet it enjoyed as a village but, while it is inevitable that every increase in population occasions an increase in the community noise, it is just as obvious that many existing noise-nuisances are unnecessary.

Suggestive of future noise preventative measures are ordinances against open automobile mufflers, community bans on clamorous wedding celebrations, curbing of unnecessary blowing of automobile horns, actions against traction companies which neglect the wheels of their cars and the joints of their tracks.

THE BOY FROM THE HICK TOWN

The so-called hick town has lately become a source of great inspiration to our professional humorists.

A hick town, say the various users of this convenient formula, is a place where a backfire is never mistaken for a pistol shot; where bedtime is orthodox; where woodpeckers eat up the depot; where central can tell you whether it was a girl or a boy; where the neighbors will supply you with a conscience if you lack one; where there is no parking problem; where a curfew disturbs the residents' rest; where fine cut tobacco is no handicap socially, and so on and on.

With no intention of becoming terribly heavy over the matter, we want to add that a hick town is a place where 26 of our 29 presidents were born and where seven out of 10 of the immortals in New York's national hall of fame originated. A hick town that didn't have a name produced Lincoln. Hick towns gave us most of our great literary figures of the past and practically all of those now living. Hick towns produce our Edisons.

If we may, then we would like to suggest that a hick town is a place where a boy has an excellent opportunity to lay the foundation of future greatness.

Mushrooms come up over night, and it is the opinion of a motorist looking for a place to park that fire hydrants do, too.

Bucks County W. C. T. U. Has Warning Issued

In a statement issued today by Miss M. A. Lownes, director of publicity of the Bucks County W. C. T. U., it is said:

"The National Women's Christian Temperance Union warns its members that the wet propaganda campaign now staged in the wet press is aimed as much at President Hoover as at prohibition.

"The association against the prohibition amendment, the mainstay of the wet movement, spent half a million dollars to defeat Herbert Hoover in the political campaign and its present drive is an attempt to undermine public respect for the president's policies of personal observance of the law, support of the 18th amendment by the states, and effective enforcement of the law by competent officials.

"Members of the W. C. T. U. may expect to see the association against the prohibition amendment utilize the mere existence of the president's commission against law enforcement for the furtherance of wet propaganda.

"The wet organization will present some of its so-called 'data' to the commission and release it to the press. It will have more effect on the headline writer than on the president's commission.

"The president is appealing to Americans to respect, observe and enforce the law.

"The wets are neither discouraging violations of the law nor working openly for the repeal of the prohibition law. They are undermining the constitution. They are propagating respect for the bootlegger and disrespect for the law.

"They are working to nullify a part of the constitution and boasting about it. They are spreading the 'insidious disease' spoken of by President Hoover."

Today

-Chevrolet announces

THE GREATEST CHEVROLET

IN CHEVROLET HISTORY

Today, Chevrolet presents the Greatest Chevrolet in Chevrolet History—a smoother, faster, better Six—with beautiful new bodies by Fisher.

Basically, it is the same sturdy, substantial Six which won such tremendous popularity in 1929. But it is a greater car in every way—for there are scores of vital improvements which contribute to comfort, performance, endurance and safety.

An improved six-cylinder - valve-in-head motor, with its capacity increased to 50 horsepower; four Delco-Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers; fully-enclosed internal-expanding weather-proof brakes; a new dash gasoline gauge; heavier and stronger rear axle; Fisher non-glare windshield; larger tires—

—these are typical of the many improvements found throughout the entire design.

But most impressive of all—this smoother, faster, better Six is available—

-at greatly reduced prices!

During 1929, more than a million three hundred thousand persons bought six-cylinder Chevrolets. This enormous volume has made possible many savings in the Chevrolet factories—and, in keeping with its long-established policy, Chevrolet is sharing these savings with the public. No written description can do justice to the extra value and quality provided in this new car. Visit your Chevrolet dealer—see this car—ride in it—and judge for yourself the sensational value it represents.
